THREE NATIONS JOIN IN SEARCH FOR MISSING FLIERS

HOOVER ENJOYS BREAKFAST AGAIN AT BIRTHPLACE

Republican Nominee Sees
Many Farm Leaders In West Branch, Iowa

Speaks Tonight In Town Of His Birth

Then Moves On To Cedar Rapids For Two-Day
Program There

West Branch, Iowa, Aug. 21.—
J. Edgar Hoover, as Republican nominee for president, met the farm leaders here today as he returned to the place of his birth.

Thousands of farm leaders from all sections of the grain belt gathered here to hear Hoover expound
upon his program for the relief of American agriculture.

The nominee was to move on to Cedar Rapids after the speech to hold a series of conferences with the farm leaders. At Cedar Rapids, during a two-day stay, he will participate in a parade, lunch with farm editors and attend an old-fashioned farmers
picnic.

May Win Over Leaders
At the end of the three-day visit to Iowa, the Republican nominee
probably will have all the details of agriculture's problem.

It is the hope of his advisers that while the farm leaders are discussing their problems with him, his sympathetic attitude toward their situation will win them to the Republican cause.

Thus far, the nominee has been successful to a remarkable degree
in winning over those farm leaders
with whom he conferred.

Breakfast In Old Home
Hoover breakfasted in the house
of his birth this morning, leaving his special train to visit the old homestead.

He was accompanied by Mrs.
Hoover and his two sons, Herbert, Roger and Alan, besides a number of personal advisers.

During the morning, he visited
some of the old residents of his birthplace,
some of whom he recalled from his childhood days, and took another look at the fishing spots, swimming and hunting scenes of his youth.

Pleased With Dry Stand
In touring through the mid-west
to reach Iowa, Hoover found Republican leaders pleased not only with his farm program but with his stand on prohibition.

In Kansas especially, the Republican leaders lauded Hoover for taking the dry side of the prohibition question. His reference to prohibition in his acceptance speech,
incidentally, was accepted on all sides as a pronounced statement.

Kansas, being one of the pioneer
states in prohibition.

IOWA TORN BY FREAK STORMS

Cloudburst Hits Hoover's
Birthplace; Damage Is Heavy In State

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Aug. 21.—With radio communications being gradually restored, reports were made today
of the loss of life and property damage caused in sections of Iowa and Minnesota late yesterday by a series of freak wind and rain storms.

Seven deaths in the affected area
were laid to violence of the storm.
Three persons were reported killed
at Clear Lake, Ia., while two others
were reported killed near Austin, Minn.

Seven cottages were razed by the freak wind at Twin Lakes and tremendous damage to crops resulted.

Rain of cloudburst proportions
last night drenched flagrant West Branch, Ia., where Herbert Hoover was to be feted today. According to reports from that section, roads
were washed out and great damage was done to crops.

It was reported the damage to the roads will seriously inconvenience the motor cavalcades that had set out for West Branch to honor Hoover.

Ashland, Wis., Aug. 21.—Hundreds
of acres of corn and small grain
were in near ruin today as a result of the violent rain and hail storm
that swept this district late yesterday.

The corn was literally cut to shreds by the pelting hail stones.
Many acres of smaller grain were flattened.

service was being arranged today
for Arthur Wilbur, 17, who was

BREAK BETWEEN TUTTLE, FEDERAL CHIEF NOW SEEN

New York U. S. Attorney
Refuses To Continue
Quiz Of Prominent

MRS. WILLEBRANDT
HAD ORDERED THIS

She May Not Go To New York At Present To Survey Situation

New York, Aug. 21.—Possibilities
of a break between Charles H. Tuttle, United States attorney, and Mrs.
Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general in charge of prohibition enforcement, were seen today following Tuttle's action of halting the questioning of socially and politically prominent men and women in connection with night
club liquor cases.

Tuttle, in halting the inquiry by the grand jury, said that subpoenas were issued while he and other members of his office were absent
and without his knowledge and sanction.

Will Not Go To N. Y.
Mrs. Willebrandt was to return to Washington today from Kansas.
Washington officials in New York
would not talk about the situation
but it was intimated by Mrs. Willebrandt's secretary that she would not come to New York at the present time.

One of the points stressed by Tuttle was that the testimony wanted was for use in cases against night clubs already indicted and was not to involve patrons of the clubs.

Will Not Entrap Witnesses
"No effort will be made by me to entrap witnesses into statement
which may prove harmful to them," Tuttle said. "I would not ask anyone to come to the office and testify
and then use his statements against him."

"The inquiry into the liquor situation in night clubs will be continued but along other lines," Tuttle said. "I do not approve of the wholesale publicity method and I believe that my action protected
the citizenry of New York."

Tuttle returned to New York yesterday, after four witnesses of 125
subpoenaed had been called before the grand jury and halted the examination.

COOLIDGE SENDS
NOTE OF SORROW

Praises George Harvey's
Career As Diplomat
And Journalist

Dublin, N. H., Aug. 21.—Messages of condolence from President Coolidge and scores of other notables
reached Mrs. George Harvey today expressing sorrow at the death of her husband, former ambassador to the court of St. James and famous as the master of two American presidents.

The death of Colonel Harvey, resulting from a heart attack, was unexpected. He had been ill for a month at his summer home here
from asthma and bronchitis, but had appeared to be on the road to recovery. He was stricken suddenly yesterday and died within a few seconds.

Coolidge Sends Message
President Coolidge sent the following message to Mrs. Harvey:
"I have just learned with profound sorrow that Mr. Harvey passed away. My close acquaintance with him for many years brought home to me his real abilities. His distinguished career as a journalist
and a diplomat will long be remembered by his countrymen. Mrs. Coolidge joins me in sending sincere sympathy to you and to the other members of his family."

"Calvin Coolidge."

Kept Tab On Politics
The famous publicist will be buried either tomorrow or Thursday at Peacham, Vt., where he was born 64 years ago.

The funeral service will be extremely simple, according to present reports.

A few close friends and relatives,
it was decided, will attend the services.

Despite Colonel Harvey's physical condition, he had kept in close touch with the Republican presidential campaign and has held several conferences with eastern Republican leaders during the last three weeks.

Woll Favors Beer,
5-Day Work Week

Cincinnati, Aug. 21.—Matthew Woll, president of the International Photo Engravers union now holding convention sessions here, was on record today as favoring modification of the Volstead act to permit
2.75 beer and reduction of the working week to five days.

Woll, who also fills the post of vice-president of the A. F. of L., declared a five-day week to be "absolutely essential if we are to give people employment," and voiced his belief that a longer working week
tends to throw men out of employment.

Triplets Seek Baby Show Crown

Potter Killed When Car Falls 100 Feet

East Liverpool, Aug. 21.—George Green, 40, of 207 Baum st., was killed instantly and Laird Smith, 35, of 194 Pennsylvania ave., was slightly injured when the automobile in which they were riding skid-ded off the street car tracks overhanging the street at Newell,
W. Va., about 11:30 p. m. Monday.

Both men are from East Liverpool and were returning to their homes when the accident occurred.
Smith is superintendent of the yellow ware department of the D. E.
McNicol pottery. Green was employed in the same factory as potter.
Smith, owner and driver of the machine, sustained a fractured nose

and several broken ribs. His condition is not regarded as serious and he was removed to the home of his parents in East Liverpool today.

Green was killed instantly, according to Coroner G. A. Arner of Newell, from a crushed skull. His body was removed to the Arner undertaking home at Newell.

The accident was not discovered
until 5 a. m. today, when Smith regained consciousness while lying in the wrecked machine. He attempted to extricate Green's body, but was forced to make his way up the embankment and summon the assistance of pedestrians going to work.

White charged that Smith when
a member of the legislature, al-
ways voted to protect the saloon,
gambling and vice. Before he sailed
for Europe recently the Kansas editor retracted that part of his charge
relating to gambling and vice. Subsequently, however, through Henry
J. Allen, publicity director of the Republican national committee, he
withdrew the retraction about
gambling and prostitution.

"My record as an opponent of im-
morality is fixed and secure," Smith
wrote in reply to White. "Publicity
and by many letters in my possession, the late Rev. Cannon John P.
Peters, when chairman of the committee of 14, the leading anti-vice society of New York, repeatedly thanked me for my co-operation with that organization. No one in

was run down by an automobile;

HUNT WILL WIN BY 600, CLAIM

Election Officials Say
Liberal Will Defeat
Locher In Race

Columbus, Aug. 21.—Prediction
that the complete official count will show that Attorney Graham P.
Hunt, Cincinnati, liberal, defeated
U. S. Senator Cyrus Locher, Cleveland, dry, for the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator, short term, by more than 600 votes was made this afternoon by state election officials at the secretary of state's office.

This prediction was made despite the fact that supporters of Locher
declared that a tabulation of complete returns from last Tuesday's statewide primary election, made
outside the secretary of state's office
reduced Hunt's lead to 34 votes.

Announcement was made this afternoon that the official count is still missing from the number of counties and that Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown will not be able to announce the list of nominees on the Democratic and Republican state tickets before tonight or Wednesday.

NAME WHITING COMMERCE HEAD

Washington, Aug. 21.—William F.
Whiting of Holyoke, Mass., has been appointed by President Coolidge as secretary of commerce to succeed Herbert Hoover, it was announced at the commerce department today.

Hoover's resignation was submitted to the president at Brule, Wis., shortly after the secretary's nomination as the Republican candidate.

Because of Mr. Coolidge's long delay in appointing a successor, reports had arisen that Hoover might remain in the cabinet during the campaign. This decision Secretary
Hoover left to the president.

SMITH REFUTES WHITE'S CHARGES OF VICE BACKING

Prepares for Wednesday Night Notification On Capitol Steps

SAYS REPUBLICANS
HAVE BEEN UNFAIR

Cites Thanks He Received
From Anti-Vice Chief
For Cooperation

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 21.—Convinced that he has shattered completely William Allen White's charges that he is morally unfit to be the president of the United States, Gov. Al Smith today anxiously looked forward to his notification ceremony
set for 7 o'clock tomorrow night,
when he will launch formally his campaign for the presidency.

Declaring that his record "as an opponent of immorality is fixed and secure," the Democratic nominee
in formal statement, charged that White and the Republican national committee had pursued a "cowardly" course in attempting to picture
him as a friend of the saloon, gambling and prostitution.

Also Answers Straton
While the governor did not mention Dr. John Roach Straton by name, he told friends that his reply to White also could be taken as an answer to the New York City
clergyman's charge that he is the "deadliest foe in America today to moral progress."

"I am glad to have this matter
taken out of the whisper stage and put into the open; and for all I shall meet it now," the governor
declared. "I regard it as purely political and when the campaign begins, I do not propose to have the issues of that campaign befogged by controversy over irrelevant things,
such as the discussion of my votes
as a legislator some 20 or more years ago."

Points To Peters' Thanks
White charged that Smith when
a member of the legislature, al-
ways voted to protect the saloon,
gambling and vice. Before he sailed
for Europe recently the Kansas editor retracted that part of his charge
relating to gambling and vice. Sub-
sequently, however, through Henry
J. Allen, publicity director of the Republican national committee, he
withdrew the retraction about
gambling and prostitution.

"My record as an opponent of im-
morality is fixed and secure," Smith
wrote in reply to White. "Publicity
and by many letters in my possession, the late Rev. Cannon John P.

Justice Myers further commanded Judge Richter to appear before the Indiana supreme court at 10 a. m., September 4 and show cause why
the writ of prohibition should not be made permanent.

Rockford Hopes Revived
By Report Planes Are Following Course

Washington, Aug. 21.—The navy department and the federal radio commission today joined with the east guard in efforts to locate Bert Hassell and Parker D. Cramer, missing in their airplane, Greater Rockford.

Several naval and private radio stations were ordered to close down
while attempts are being made to pick up signals from the fliers.

Three countries—the United States, Canada and Greenland—
are engaged today in the search for Bert Hassell and Parker Cramer, missing American fliers who became lost while attempting a flight from Canada to Sweden.

The Americans, who originally set out from Rockford, Ill., to fly to Stockholm, Sweden, were due at Mount Evans, Greenland, on Sunday morning. It was first believed that they had landed in some isolated spot on the Greenland coast, but when search failed to reveal any trace of them, the fear developed that they had been forced down
somewhere in the Atlantic between the Canadian coast and the Greenland coast.

The Canadian government has instructed the mounted police, the coast guard stations and ships along the Labrador coast to make special search for the airmen.

The last heard of the airmen was on Sunday morning when they were 75 miles off Cape Chidley, on the Labrador coast.

Boat Goes To Rescue
St. Johns, Newfoundland, Aug. 21.—
The government today instructed the S. S. Sisu, now on the Labrador coast, to institute a search for the missing plane, "Greater Rockford,"
and its occupants, Bert Hassell and

The orders came after government officials learned the last position given by the fliers was 75 miles east of the coast of Labrador and 400 miles from Mt. Evans, Greenland.

THE VOTE TURNED OUT

Nominations by primary, not only in Ohio, but elsewhere throughout the country, always have seemed to be selections made by a minority, rather than by a majority. This was due, of course, to the lamentable fact that the people refused to bestir themselves.

At the state-wide primary the other day, however, the lethargy which has seemed to envelop Ohio voters was thrown off and there was an outpouring of men and women to the polls which not only surprised election officials, but swamped the election machinery, showing up the count and making it doubly necessary to be absolutely accurate in tabulations.

What does this outpouring of voters indicate? Does it mean an awakening of the public to its citizenship duties? In a way, yes. But on the other hand, as the condition is viewed by those in a position to know, it would seem that the approaching presidential election, with its manifold issues, has served finally to shake off the soporific which has deadened the public to its electoral duties.

If the primary outpouring is any indication whatever of the interest in the forthcoming presidential election, then Ohio is going to vote heavier in November than was the case four years ago. And if the same ratio is carried out elsewhere in the nation—as straws now indicate—then there will be a greater popular vote cast than was given Mr. Coolidge, which was the heaviest popular vote ever cast.

Given issues which interest them, and nominees for public office capable of interpreting those issues and arousing the public, and Americans will go to the polls.

PET IDEAS ARE UPSET

The average man or woman will find in a statistical study of motor vehicle accidents in Cincinnati, recently completed by Richard Shelton Kirby, of the department of civil engineering at Yale, much which will upset many pet preconceptions.

There is a generally prevalent opinion that poor road surfaces, improper road topography, bad weather and darkness are to blame for a large number of automobile accidents. But the tables of the Kirby report show that more than two-thirds of the 26,832 accidents in Connecticut last year happened on good road surfaces, nearly two-thirds of them in daylight, and more than three-quarters of them in good weather.

Another interesting point disclosed is that more than a third of these accidents happened on unobstructed straightaways, where there were no intersections, crossings, hills or curves entering the picture. And almost half of this large number of accidents happened on absolutely level roadways.

Nor, as might be supposed, were June and July the worst months in the year for these accidents. September and November had the largest number of fatalities, of which Connecticut had 356 in 1927. And about a sixth of these lives were lost in the late evening or early morning.

Speeding did not cause more of the accidents than any other one factor, although the opinion is prevalent that high rates of speed everywhere are responsible for a majority of all highway mishaps. One imagines that, generally speaking, pedestrians figure in a large proportion of motor accidents, but last year they were factors in only about one-seventh of the accidents that happened in Connecticut, which very likely can be appropriately taken as an average rate.

Just such a study as this should be undertaken in all other states if there is to be any radical reduction in the shocking number of automobile accidents which are disgracing the nation. An intelligent study of all the factors entering into motor vehicle mishaps is necessary to any effective crusade for their elimination.

What Others Say

AMERICA AT THE OLYMPIAD
With the 1928 Olympiad officially consigned to history, it should be possible for athletic enthusiasts in this country to survey the outcome dispassionately. After the occasion had provoked no end of apprehension and controversy, the United States carried away 22 first prizes, or more than the next two nations, Germany, 11, and Finland, eight, combined.

There were upsets, to be sure, such as the failure of American track men to win as many events as they had hoped to win and American boxers, owing partly to faulty refereeing, came away without a single championship. But aside from disappointments, and in addition to the prizes won, the American contingent is leaving Amsterdam with the admiration and good will of all the other participants. As at Olympic contests in former years occasional breaches of sportsmanly etiquette occurred this year, but the Americans throughout behaved as sportsmen should behave in an international competition of this character.

As for the failures, the rules of true sportsmanship require that responsibility be sought at home first, before an attempt is made to put the blame elsewhere. The matter is one which merits attention on the part of those who have the future of American athletics at heart. Already voices are being raised against a system which is alleged to permit too much control of athletics to fall into the hands of a small, organized coterie of autocrats with headquarters in the east, while other athletic organizations, far more representative of the Middle West and west, have next to no say in matters as vital as training and the selection of coaches. The charge has been made that the track failures at Amsterdam were due to these conditions. If the facts after calm study support the allegations, the critics of the so-called eastern hegemony will have a strong case in their appeal for a change.—Detroit Free Press.

YEA, A DANIEL

Pausing at St. Paul on his leisurely return from a current holiday, our mayor's great heart went out to the farmers of America. From his train window he had seen farms; they had been pointed out to him. The corn had been identified, and its height analyzed; other crops had been made familiar to "Broadway's Ambassador to Everywhere," and by the time St. Paul was reached and skilled cartographers had shown the mayor just where he was, the farm problem had taken domination of his mind.

"Does New York want farm relief?" the reporter asked him. A less alert man than our mayor might have been trapped there. But unhesitatingly the sensational reply came: "It does." One can visualize the farm faculty of the train standing by and hoping that Mr. Walker at this point would reveal the agricultural lore he had learned 50 miles back, as his car thundered through Anoka. Nor did he fail them. Instantly he entered upon an analysis of the farm problem that for peaceful penetration exceeds anything the Germans ever did in North America. He said that New York understands its dependence on the farmers. As for relief, "any kind of relief they want; they are more familiar with their own needs than we of the city; we want to give them what they need."

St. Paul reporters are fearless men, used to shock, surprise and alarm, but when these remarkable thoughts came from the lips of the solemn mayor they broke their pencil points in frantic haste to preserve them in all their wisdom. Mechanicians leaped to their posts in order to diffuse over countless radios and wires this beam of economic thought. In distant cities men were seen to glow with pride that New York had produced another John Stuart Mill, and on the broad farms of the land unqualified agrarians were to hail through bearded lips the name of Walker.—New York Times.

Paris Calls Gotham 20 Times Each Day

Paris, Aug. 21.—On an average of 20 times a day some one in France picks up a telephone receiver and says hello to someone in America. That makes a total of 2,500 calls during the four months the Paris-New York telephone has been in operation.

Calls from Paris to and around New York cost approximately $50 for three minutes. That would make a total of $125,000 spent on telephoning across the ocean but it was announced that the government tax on the calls amounted to only $2,000. The trans-Atlantic telephone is now taken as a matter of course.

Practically ninety per cent of the qualified voters cast their ballots in the recent parliamentary elections in France.

The Stars Say—

For Wednesday, Aug. 22.

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE.

THIS day may predispose to restlessness and change, according to the predominant movement of the determining planets. And yet the tendency had best be regulated or kept under control if the best interests are to be subserved. Although if this adventurous spirit be involved in connection with new projects or in the interest of large corporations, companies or secret societies there may be benefits from these moves. It may be a day of curious occurrences or experiences.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year of unusual or singular experiences, possibly in connection with large and close corporations or combines or in relation to secret organizations. These may involve change or travel. A child born on this day may have a restless and adventurous disposition and may be endowed with qualities fitting it for diplomacy, stratagem or intrigue. It may likewise lean toward mystical and high artistic pursuits.

OBSCURE DISEASES SHOW IN THE SKIN

By Royal S. Copeland, M. D.

United States Senator From New York, Former Commissioner of Health, New York City

Psoriasis is a skin disease that takes the form of a localized patch of scaly skin on a red base. It is sharply defined at the edges. The patch is not unlike a scald of the skin upon which white scales have been spread.

The accepted view today is that these patches are the result of some sort of food poisoning, the failure of proper elimination of some given element in the body wastes, or to an infection from some pus centre. Just why the skin poisoning should take this form nobody knows.

We are a long, long way from knowing a lot of things. This need not be discouraging. The Commissioner of Patents recommended to congress 50 years ago that the Bureau of Patents be abolished, because, he said, "Everything has been invented that the mind of man can possibly think of."

Think of the things which have been invented in the past 50 years—the electric light, the telephone, automobile and airplane, the tractor, the radio. During the next 50 years I have no doubt greater wonders will be revealed.

In the field of medicine wonderful discoveries will be under control. The span of life will be materially extended. The skin diseases are puzzling. Take hives, for instance, why do those swollen spots come after eating certain foods? I know a girl who would have giant hives if she took a single drop of cream.

Whenever the nose, the bend of the elbow, the prominent part of the cheek, or some other area, is the seat of repeated pimples, swellings, redness, scaliness or itching, there must be two conditions present. There is a local weakness, which may be due to an unperfected function of the skin, and then there must be some irritant or exciting substance, which comes through the circulation. Of course there is a further possibility—that the irritation comes without, possibly from some unconscious habit.

But you can see how difficult it is to explain rationally these mysterious skin disturbances. The best thing to do, however, is to search the body in an attempt to discover any local infection which may exist and failing in this to eliminate one after another the articles of food which may be responsible for the trouble.

Your doctor will advise you as to the remedies required. But you will help him by studying your own habits to see if anything you do may be responsible for the symptoms.

The last Town Crier passes

Not so long ago, the newspapers made quite a feature of the retirement of the last-known public Town Crier. For years he had trod the streets of Provincetown, Massachusetts, ringing his bell and crying out the news and what not.

In Colonial times and during the early days of the republic, the Town Crier was a public institution. People depended on him for the latest news as well as for information regarding sales of goods by local merchants. But newspaper and advertising made his services unnecessary years and years ago.

Today we turn to the newspapers for our news — and to the advertising columns for news of merchandise as naturally as we do to the sports page, the home economics page, the financial page or to any one of the specialized features that make the modern newspaper so indispensable to our every-day life — and advertising is as indispensable as the news, for advertising is news.

Advertising is the news of the moment just as surely as the latest press dispatch. It tells us what and when and where to purchase to save money and time and energy. It touches our daily lives in a thousand ways—it affects the health of our children, the happiness of our families and our own well-being.

Read the advertisements in the daily papers. They are vitally important to you and yours. They are your loyal friends and advisers.

Knife-Toting Girls

 To Glasgow Police

Glasgow, Aug. 21.—Gangs of knife-carrying, terrorizing young women are giving Glasgow police
 a new problem. The most baffling problem ever set before them.
 These young women have revolted
 against all the decencies of life,
 say police officials. "The time is ripe for drastic action."
 They parade the streets with daggers hidden in their pockets or beneath their skirts. They are for the most part progeny of generations bred in slum-land.
 It would amaze some of the churches who send missionaries to darkest Africa to find heathens at home more vicious and degraded
 than the blacks themselves.
 These female desperadoes are "hunted" in the back streets of the town by mock chaplains.
 In one case the "bride" had to wear a short, villainous-looking dagger, which was then presented to the "bridegroom." Both swore to the "chaplain"—he had two black eyes—to take each other for so long as they were pleased with the bargain.

Roman Alphabet Is Soon to Be Used By All Oriental Nations

Berlin, Aug. 21.—A veritable revolution of the mind which promises to do more for the spiritual understanding among nations and races
 than any other one thing in history
 is now going on within one half of mankind, the Literarische Welt points out.
 This revolution consists in the introduction of the Roman type and alphabet throughout practically the entire Orient.
 The Turkish parliament has just passed a law adopting the Roman
 alphabet in the English transcription
 within a few years.
 Japan announced at Geneva recently that it will adopt the Roman
 alphabet in the English transcription

 Turkestan, Uzbekistan, Tartaris-

said to be preparing to follow suit.
 Even nations which have a type

 to abandon their own and to adopt the Roman type instead.

Lottery Broken By Lucky Porter After Police Efforts Fail

Denver, Aug. 21.—"Hop Alley," Chinese gambling hangout located in lower Denver, has lost
 one of its chief sources of revenue. The Lottery is closed.
 Police long ago gave up trying to solve the secret passages and cunning trickery commonly known to exist in Hop Alley,
 for every time the law appeared the dark, dingy walls seemed to swallow all gambling devices
 and games of chance.
 But one day when a colored
 porter from his regular journey
 in his Pullman railroad car he invaded Chinatown because, he said, he felt a luck streak.
 Around his neck he wore a rab-bit's foot, suspended on a fish
 cord that had been drawn
 through the waters of Cherry creek. Underneath all this, he kept his toes crossed the entire time.
 Round one, and the darky
 won. Round two, and he won again. Rounds three, four and five saw the performance repeated. The Chinamen became excited. Their luck had departed. Before the game ended, the darky had won $1,900, the entire stake of the establishment.
 The Lottery is closed.

"What are you doing there?" said
 the policeman to a man who was trying to remove a lamp from the bridge at Riverside.
 "My wife told me to bring home
 a bridge lamp and I am trying to obey orders."

LEGION FACING BUSINESS TODAY

Elyria Wins Drum Corps Contest; Xenia Home Aid Is Promised

Columbus, Aug. 21.—Members of the American Legion holding their state convention here this week were scheduled to "get down to business" today after a gala day of band concerts, parades and stunts yesterday. Between 10,000 and 12,000 legionnaires are visitors in this city.

The drum corps contest yesterday following the parade, Elyria post No. 12, won, and O'Brien post No. 326 of Shelby was awarded second prize. The Elyria drum corps was given a silver loving cup and Shelby musicians a silver plaque.

The real award for winning the contest will be the trip to the national convention of the American Legion at San Antonio in October with all expenses paid by the state organization.

Among the speakers at the legion sessions yesterday were Hanford McNider, former assistant secretary of war and past national commander of the American Legion; Gov. Vic A. Donahy; Maj. Gen. Dennis E. Nolan; Judge E. S. Mathias, Ohio supreme court; and John McClay, state commander of the G. A. R.

McNider told the legionnaires that they should not have so many objects in view, but to concentrate on one or two for with a large number "we make enemies without helping our own cause."

Gov. Donahy assured them that "the bloody hand" of politics would be kept out of the situation at the Xenia Soldiers and Sailors Orphans home.

SMITH

has ever dared to make the vile suggestions which emanated from Mr. White, with the approval of Henry J. Allen, publicity director of the Republican national committee.

Committee Feels Blast

Then the governor trained his guns directly upon the Republican national committee. He said:

"What a cowardly course the Republican national committee pursued. It issued a slanderous statement through its official publicity bureau and then after its general publication in the press, attempted to evade responsibility by the childish claim that it had been given out by accident. That is not fair play."

The governor asserted he is confident that the people of New York approved his legislative record or they would not have elected him four times to the governorship, something that has never been done before in the state's history. He added:

Refutes Other Charges

"I cannot, however, let go unchallenged the political attempt to tear down my character and reputation by seeking to align me on the side of opposition to the regulation of the liquor traffic and in favor of gambling and prostitution."

White's charge that Smith's record showed him to be a friend of prostitution drew his sharpest fire. He said this charge was based upon a bill which would have prevented the renting of a hotel room twice in one night. After pointing out that this bill, which he voted against, was first defeated and then later passed for "political expediency" by the Republican legislature, the governor wrote:

Based On Single Bill

"On this bill and this single bill alone, William Allen White would have my wife, my children and my friends believe that in my long public career I was a friend of public prostitution."

In formally accepting the nomination the governor's confidants predict that he will state his views so clearly on every major campaign issue that they cannot be misunderstood or misinterpreted. Prohibition is expected to be one of the high spots in the acceptance speech. The governor already has said that he will "clearly and unmistakably" express his views on this subject.

The vanguard of 100,000 Democrats, who are expected here for the notification is due in Albany today. The city already is decked out in its holiday clothes while the east steps of the capitol, where the notification meeting will be staged, have been transformed into an open air theater.

HOOVER

prohibition states, found this stand of Hoover particularly agreeable.

Capper Sees Victory

"The American people have accepted Herbert Hoover as the representative of the dry side of the prohibition question," said Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas, for one.

Governor Smith is looked upon as the representative of the dripping wet side. "I can't see how the issue can be drawn more clearly. I believe prohibition will be the greatest issue of the campaign and Herbert Hoover, as the dry candidate, will sweep the entire west, carrying every state of the Mississippi excepting Texas and win in November by the greatest pluralities ever rolled up in a presidential election."

EASTERNERS

heckling on the prohibition issue. Now that Hoover has entered into the campaign with a declaration that "we shall use words to convey our meaning, not to hide it," many of them feel that he is bound to wage a vigorous fight.

Kean Sees Stiff Battle

Among the most recent visitors to headquarters, who is said to have urged the personal appearance of Hoover in eastern states, is Hamilton Kean, Republican senatorial candidate in New Jersey. He predicted a Republican victory, although warning the headquarters staff that a stiff battle lies ahead.

The statement of Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, condemning Hoover's prohibition stand, was received silently by most organization leaders here but they could not clothe their disappointment over the defection. In the absence of Hoover and National Chairman Murray Butler, no responsible leader was willing to enter into a debate with Butler.

Tariff Main East Issue

The whole eastern fight, it was made plain, will be made on the basis that the tariff and Republican capacity for government are the major issues of the campaign.

The eastern campaign will be officially opened by Senator Charles Curtis, vice presidential nominee, at Rosky Point, R. I., on Thursday and will be continued by his tour. With the return to the city tonight of National Chairman Work plans will be set in motion for other phases of the eastern campaign. All must await the approval of Hoover, who is scheduled to return to Washington the latter part of the week and personally decide all major questions of policy.

SHIPS ORDERED

trace of them had been found.

The failure of radio stations to pick up any trace of the missing airmen increased fears that disaster had overtaken their plane at sea.

The United States coast guard cutter Marlin, which has been operating in the Hudson strait, near the projected route of the flight, was instructed to aid in the search for the missing men.

Canadian Greenland and Danish fishing boats have joined the search at the request of the United States government.

The Canadian government, it is understood here, has requested trappers in the northeastern wilderness to keep an extra sharp watch for traces of the missing plane.

Rockford Still Hoping

Rockford, Ill., Aug. 21.—Rockford citizens today took new hope for the ultimate rescue of Aviators Bert Haysell and Percival Chamber, lost en route to Sweden, when it was learned a fleet of Canadian planes had been ordered out from Port Burwell to search the course taken by the missing "Greater Rockford" monoplane.

The searching planes were ordered out last night by A. J. Wilson, head of the civil aviation branch of the Canadian department of commerce.

Port Burwell is 300 miles from Davis Straits, the region from which the venturesome Rockford flyers were last heard. The flyers had agreed that, in the event of trouble near the straits, they would turn back and attempt to reach Port Burwell.

Dedicate Airport

Gallipolis, Aug. 21.—Official dedication of the Gallipolis Airport will be held Thursday with a program of air maneuvers and demonstrations, it was announced here today.

TWO CLAIMING ALBANIA CROWN

President Expected To Take Throne But Ruler Before War Objects

Berlin, Aug. 21.—Conflicting claims, which may lead to international complications, are being put forward for the throne of Albania, where, for the first time since the war, Europe is about to witness the restoration of a monarchy.

Dispatches from Tirana today stated that demonstrations demanding the crowning of President Ahmed Zogu as King of Albania have broken out in all parts of the country, and that Zogu is scheduled to proclaim himself king within the next week. For four years Zogu has ruled Albania with an iron hand, and it is only a short step to monarchy.

Another claimant for the Albanian crown appeared today, however, in the person of Prince William of Wied, who ruled Albania for six months in 1914. Prince William accepted the Albanian crown at Neuwed, Germany, in February, 1914, after the independence of Albania had been proclaimed, and the London ambassadorial conference had agreed that an European prince be named to rule the new country.

After the outbreak of the European war, Prince William and the members of the international control commission which aided him in the government, fled the country. German newspapers said today that Prince William had the first claim to the Albanian throne if a monarchy is restored.

Mullins Takes First Title Series Game

DEFEAT MASONS IN WARM 7 TO 5 LOOP STRUGGLE

Watkins of Body Makers Hit Hard But Lodge Fails to Win

SUPPORT BEHIND MYERS UNCERTAIN

Mullins Scores Winning Runs In 7th On Walk, And Two Singles

Mullins took first blood in an exciting opening game of the city playground baseball championship series with the Masons last night at Centennial park, winning by a 7-5 margin.

Both teams played spectacular baseball with the fielding of the Mullins players being the outstanding feature of the contest.

Watkins was hit hard. In fact, the Masonic outfit slammed Sam's underhand twister more than it had been hit to consistent advantage.

Judy Myers, pitcher-manager of the Masons, hurled a great brand ball but his support wavered on several stances, which proved fatal.

With the score 7-2 against them, the Masons stepped on Watkins for two hits and had the tying runs come second and third when Springfield tied the score.

In the seventh inning the winners scored what proved to be the winning markers on a walk and two singles, both of the fluke variety.

The second game of the series will be played at 6 tonight at the park. Five games will be played if necessary, one each night this week.

COLLEGIANS LED TEAM BATTING; MYERS TOP MAN

Watkins Best Pitcher of City League Last Half; Hagan Starred But Was Unable To Count Single Win For City Hall

The Collegians, tramping through the league for four straight wins after losing their first two games, easily lead the playground baseball league in team slugging at the end of the regular season, batting .361.

"Judy" Myers, slugging pitcher-manager of the Masons, led the individual field in hitting and was easily the most consistent batter in the circuit with an even 500 average. Myers totaled 13 hits in 26 times at bat, scoring nine runs.

Paul "Mex" Harrington, Electric Furnace first sacker, whose average took a slight drop two weeks ago returned to second place in batting with .464, succeeding McKee, Masonic first baseman who led the league for the first four weeks but dropped to .419, for tenth position in his last two games.

Only two other teams batted .300 with the collegiate aggregation, the champions of each half, Mullins and the Masons, who batted .348 and .305 respectively.

Of the pitchers, Sam Watkins won the most games, six, and proved the most effective, allowing the least number of hits and runs per game for the season. ## ALLEN TO ENTER U. OF MICHIGAN

Champ Back from Detroit Where He Took First In Cadillac Meet

Lowell "Little Rib" Allen, world's interscholastic indoor and outdoor pole vault champion, will enter the University of Michigan in September, he announced today.

He made this announcement following his competition in the Amateur Athletic Union meet sponsored by the Cadillac Athletic club in Detroit Saturday in which he carried off first honors with a vault of 12 feet.

It was an off day for the champion, Rib failing twice at 11 feet and just barely cleared 12 feet.

The other half of Salem's famous pole vaulting "twins", Keith "Mutt" Roessler, captain of the 1928 Salem High track team, will not enter college this fall.

Roessler was entered in the Detroit meet with Allen, but was unable to make the trip.

ENGLISH GIRL CHANNEL HOPE TRAINING HARD

London, Aug. 21.—Getting ready to swim the channel is one of the hardest jobs in the world.

So says Miss Laddie Sharp, the 18-year-old Welshman girl, who is regarded as one of England's strongest chances to carry off honors in the channel-swimming derby this year.

"I get out of bed at the dot of seven in the morning," Miss Sharp said in outlining her training schedule. "I walk until 8:30 and then breakfast. Then comes a four-hour swim at full speed against the tide."

"After lunch, I take two hours' rest, and then a massage. After dinner I take another walk and then into bed at 9 o'clock sharp."

"Proper food is important. I am very fond of raw steak for dinner, and sometimes I also have a glass of stout, because stout is fattening and the fatter you are the more buoyant you become."

Channel-swimming, apparently is one field of feminine endeavor where the raw-boned flapper has no place.

"One of the greatest thrills, in training," Miss Sharp continued, "is when I have met many of them while swimming by night off Folk-stone, and some have been 16 feet long.

"Training of this sort is hard work, but it is healthy and fine for the constitution."

Miss Sharp is but one of many aspirants who are training for channel onslaughts this year. There are at least a dozen men and women, who hope to share some of the fame enjoyed by Gertrude Ederle by making successful crossings.

Miss Sharp is being trained by Jabez Wolfe, who for several years has been identified with channel swimming. One of the hopefuls is Ishak Helmy, the giant Egyptian who has been trying to swim the channel for as long as any of the beach veterans can remember.

'Generous' Crowd at 'Mush' Ball Series Fracas Gives $2.45

More than 200 people attended the "mush" ball series opener between the Mullins and Masons last night at Centennial park.

Passing the hat to help defray expenses for the season—for balls, bats, lining off the field and so forth—a collection of $2.45 was taken from the crowd.

A sidelight on the generosity of the crowd attending is given in one of the "collectors" story of one man who had a dime, but couldn't donate because he "didn't have any change."

Reminders of 300th Colony Anniversary

Boston, Mass., Aug. 21.—To call attention to the preparations now going forward for the celebration of the 300th anniversary of the founding of Massachusetts Bay Colony, half a million slips, usable as "envelope stuffers" are being put into circulation by the Massachusetts Bay Tercentenary council. The slips are being circulated both within and without New England by 70 co-operating organizations as well as by members of the general committee in personal and business correspondence.

"You have been in politics a great many years."

"A great many," assented Senator Sorghum. "I have been fortunate in living where most of the candidates were so unlikely that the citizens have been willing to accept me as a compromise."

JINX UPSETTING PENNANT HOPES

Cubs Now Easy Prey For Lowly Phillies; Macks Fall Before Tigers

New York, Aug. 21.—The jinx, that peculiar phenomenon which foists an inferiority complex upon an ordinarily powerful team when confronted by a certain opponent, is upsetting the pennant calculations of many a national League manager this season.

St. Louis has the Indian sign of Pittsburgh, but is soft for the Giants. The latter also can "take" the Reds any time, but fall an easy prey to the Cubs in Chicago, and now, strangest of all, the Cubs are proving to be set-ups every time they face the lowly Phillies.

Philadelphia's 11 to 6 victory over Chicago yesterday marked the fifth successive time that the Quakers have taken the Windy City boys for a ride. They clubbed four Chi hurriers for 18 hits, including homers by Klein, Leach and Walsh. Hack Wilson of the Cubs contributed his 28th homer.

The league is now fairly well balanced as a result of the recent successes of the Phils and the Braves. The latter outslugged the Pirates yesterday, 14 to 11, in a three hour nightmare in which 36 hits were made. Pittsburgh's seven-run rally in the seventh was wasted.

St. Louis nosed out Brooklyn in the ninth, 2 to 1, snapping Dazzy Vance's six-game winning streak. Hanes, who relieved Frankhouse, is Vance's pet jinx, for he was the last pitcher to beat the dazzer. The Robins got only four hits.

The Giants held on to their two-point lead, however, by gaining a 5 to 3 verdict over the Reds. Genewich and Rixey did the throwing.

Connie Mack's speedy machine showed signs of cracking up when the St. Louis Browns pounded Elmer, Bush and Rommel for nine runs in the last three innings, winning 9 to 2. O'Rourke and Manush each made four hits and then celebrated by staging a head-on collision in the field. O'Rourke was badly hurt.

The A's now trail the Yankees, who were idle, by 5 1/2 games. Walt Shires, young first sacker from Waco, Texas, was a riot in his debut with the White Sox. He got four hits, enabling Red Faber to gain a 6 to 4 decision over Charley Ruffing of the Red Sox.

"ROADHOUSE"
Reckless youth, intoxicants and roadhouses, and a prodigal son who leaves home because of parental misunderstandings furnish the dramatic material for Lionel Barrymore's melodrama of an ensnared son in the tentacles of jazz-made morals in the picture "Roadhouse," at the State tonight.

The son, Warren Burke is looking for excitement and leaves his childhood sweetheart, Kay Bryant to visit a roadhouse, headquarters for pretty Maria Alba and her gang of crooks. Infatuated with the female gang-leader, Burke becomes a regular customer at the roadhouse, and when his father lectures him for it, leaves home to join the gangsters.

He becomes involved in several criminal matters and finally is accused of the murder of the roadhouse proprietor. His father and childhood sweetheart come to his rescue, obtain evidence proving his innocence and he returns to his home.

Lionel Barrymore plays the part of Burke's father. It is an impressive and exaggerated story of the youth of today, told in a vivid manner in "fictioned" atmosphere.

"SADIE THOMPSON"
"Sadie Thompson," starring Gloria Swanson is at the Grand tonight and tomorrow night.
The story of "Sadie Thompson" details the conflict between an outcast of San Francisco's underworld, from whom the picture takes its name, and a reformer, "Alfred Atkinson," who encounters the girl at Pago Pago in the South Seas and, considering her a menace, determines to reform her.

On her arrival at Pago Pago, she meets a Marine sergeant, Tim O'Hara and the two conspire to escape the clutches of the reformer, who really is a fanatic. Sadie in the meantime has incurred the enmity of the reformer and one night when O'Hara is absent, she is thrown in jail. She wins her own salvation through her understanding of human personalities, winning the hearts of the native people who assist her in her escape.

She then undermines the fixed determination of Atkinson and shows him the error of his ways, meanwhile accepting the proposal of O'Hara to become his wife.

Lionel Barrymore is the reformer, Raoul Walsh is the hero, as Tim O'Hara.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, Aug. 21.—It will be the wearin' of the green for the men this winter, according to the French fashion dictators who say that the favorite Irish tint is going to replace navy-blue so long considered essential in every well-dressed woman's wardrobe.

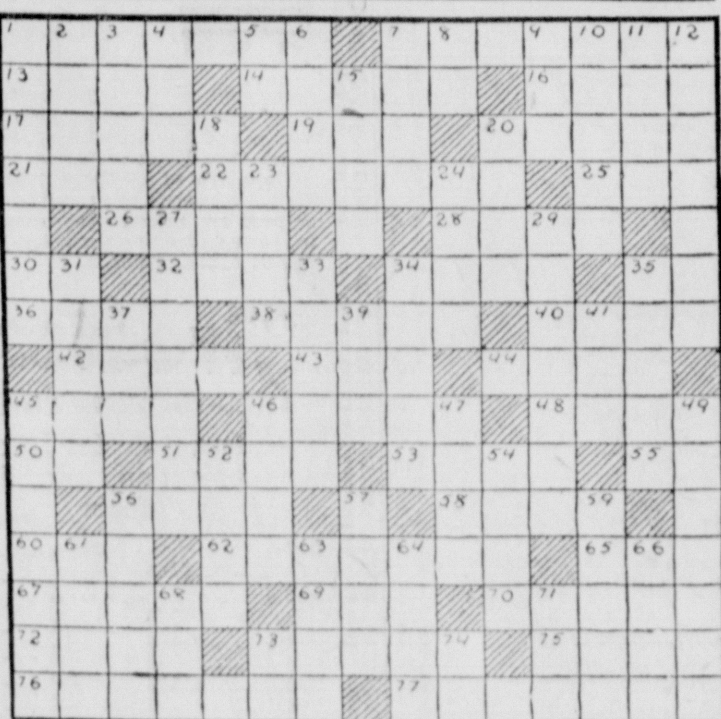

It will be a very dark bottle-green in most cases although grayish-green and the almond shade are not taboo.

Dinner-jackets will continue in midnight-blue as they have been all summer. Only one in every 20 now comes in black. The facing is black, either in plain satin or with a tiny stripe. A novelty is to have the waistcoat match the facing; in fact, it is often made of the same silk as the tie. For full dress, the waistcoats are in white pique, double-breasted, buttoning with one button covered with the same material.

The front of the short cuffs and tie are made of the same material as the waistcoat. Articles must match in every detail. The ensemble idea is just as necessary for the men as for the women.

Jeanne Lanvin, who is now busy making clothes for the head of the house as well as the ladies, is showing modernized McFarlanes for evening wear. The cape covers only the armholes and does not follow across the back as the old-fashioned coat did. It has a raglan back and the facings are of satin.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

Cleaning Hints For the Housemaid

The housemaid is frequently perplexed about the choice of cleaning aids, especially stain removers. White enamel sinks, tubs, bowls and toilets are perhaps the most difficult to keep spotless. Many so-called enamel cleaning pastes, powders and liquids, are on the market but are a bit expensive, so try a few home remedies first.

One remedy is to sprinkle chloride of lime all over a sink or tub using a handled brush, then rinse off thoroughly with hot soap suds and polish with a dry cloth. Or make a paste of powdered bath brick and vinegar and go all over the surface of the porcelain, rubbing it in with brush or soft cloth, then rinse the surface well.

Aluminum and enamel-ware utensils may be cleaned with wire wool and rinsed with hot soapy water. Where the dishes have been burned rub the spots with a mixture of vinegar and salt, worked to a thick paste. Rinse, then rub over with a cloth wet with kerosene, then rinse thoroughly.

A cut lemon dipped in salt will clean a copper boiler, brass tea kettles or other brasses, rinse off with hot water and polish with dry soft cloth. Sometimes a little baking soda mixed with the bathbrick may be used to clean steel knives, using the powder on a damp cork. A small board should be kept for knife cleaning, for steel knives, unless of the stainless variety, need cleaning after each using. Ammonia should be added to soapy water for cleaning all porcelain toilet articles.

Dear Friends:—

There is a fourteen year old boy in this town who is very careful of his appearance. Likes to have his clothes in press.

And instead of complaining about it, his father and mother encourage him in it. They know that neatness is a mighty important thing when a boy starts out in life. A slovenly boy won't get very far.

That may sound like preaching, but I don't mean it that way. I simply want to emphasize the fact that boys in school can keep that spic and span appearance by having their suits cleaned and pressed regularly here at American Dry Cleaning Co.

Mr. Kent says there are some more boys' suits coming in. More than ever before. Good idea!

Keep Your Child Well and Happy

Serious complications, traceable to digestive and eliminative troubles, cause thousands of deaths among children every year.

Think of this, mother, when your little one gets feverish, cross, lumpy, coated tongue, poor appetite and show other symptoms of disordered stomach and faulty elimination.

Triena, a different and scientific corrective, contains pure prune juice and is prepared especially for children's delicate, sensitive little bodies. It helps to sweeten a sour stomach, produces thorough, gentle bowel action and rids the system of poisonous waste, thereby removing the cause of the trouble.

Get a bottle of Triena and keep it handy. Your druggist sells and recommends Triena with a money back guarantee. Each large 50c bottle contains 4 ounces.

TALKIES BRING UPHEAVAL FOR STAGE PEOPLE

Equity Members See Road Companies' Decline In New Screen Fare

New York, Aug. 21.—The "land of make believe," where the brilliancy of a new star outshines the birth of a new nation, is undergoing another innovation—the talking picture.

Producers of plays and producers of films, stage actors and film actors, playwrights and scenario writers, and practically all concerned, even remotely, with the stage and its allied arts are at odds, either for or against, over the "talkie."

Road Shows Hit
In its members of Actors' Equity association see the possibility of the death of road companies, with the resultant decline in demand for players. Many a star in the silent movie sees dismal failure ahead if the talking film glory spreads. While, to the contrary, managers and producers in general are already counting the millions to be reaped from the new "novelty."

Apparently there is no doubt but that hardship will be worked upon many, but, on the other hand, many others will benefit. The fittest in all branches of theatricals will always survive just as easily as the weakest pass from the billboards.

Yet, undue alarm has been broadcast, many thinking persons of the stage and screen contend. The probable usurping of road companies by the talking film is far distant—if ever probable, according to certain members of the Authors' League of America.

Opinions Differ
The consensus of opinion of the more intellectual of the debaters of the situation dwindle down to the logical belief that mechanical procedure can never compete with art in flesh and blood. Even as a glorious painting of a glorious woman may be admired, just so much more admiration will the original reflect. The moving picture did "kill" the old time melodrama of the stage, by substituting a more spectacular melodrama on the screen. The talking picture undeniably will mean the death knell of the type of poor movies now in abundance, but to say it will in any way affect the art of a Eugene O'Neill, whose plays demand more than a silent or "noisy" film could give them, is to say that a representation of a blazing sunset is more wonderful than the sunset.

Pennsylvania Traces Story Of Locomotive In America

"For almost a half a century the growth of engine power has meant, primarily, not faster engine work but more engine work."

In this statement, Miss Katherine Woods, of New York, an author and traveler, summarizes the evolution of the locomotive during the last ten decades. She has recorded her impressions and conclusions in "Power—The Story of the Locomotive," an attractive booklet of 40 pages which has just been published and is being distributed by the Pennsylvania Railroad company.

As told by Miss Woods, the romantic story of the development of the steam locomotive, especially as exemplified by the Pennsylvania railroad, is an interesting historical chronicle.

Starts With John Bull
The authors narrative naturally goes back to the "John Bull," the first steam locomotive used on any line now included in the Pennsylvania system. It was imported from England and made its first run on the Camden and Amboy railroad, now part of the Pennsylvania's Trenton division, on Nov. 12, 1831. The "John Bull" was regarded as the most perfect development of the locomotive at the time it arrived in this country. Without water or fuel it weighed 22,425 pounds and its tractive power was approximately 1,300 pounds. On its regular schedule, it covered 34 miles in three hours.

"In spite of its low speed rate and its funny appearance, the historical value of the 'John Bull' went far beyond the merely picturesque," Miss Woods says.

This refers to the fact that the "John Bull" was the first locomotive in the United States to have the combination of horizontal cylinders, multi-tubular boiler and the exhaust steam pipe. These are three essential features of locomotive construction today.

Space Always Big Need
"One of the greatest obstacles in the way of increased engine power has always been the limitation of space," Miss Woods continues. "The locomotive builders has always needed more space in the fire box, space for gases in the tubes, space to produce steam and to make it do its work more efficiently. The whole story of the development of the locomotive since the days of 'John Bull' has been a story of apportionment; and many of these have to do with the effort either to get more space or to utilize existing space more effectively."

The progress achieved since the advent of "John Bull" is indicated by references to standard Pennsylvania locomotives of the closing decades of the last century and of today.

In 1893, for example, the standard engine for express passenger service weighed 103,500 pounds. The total weight of the standard locomotive of today for heavy express passenger service is 480,290 pounds, with tractive power of 44,460 pounds. Another standard locomotive of the present, used either for the heaviest express passenger service or for fast through freight service, weighs 600,300 pounds, with tractive power of 64,550 pounds.

REAL SHOWBOAT FOR THAMES IS PLAN IN LONDON

Will Be Steamheated But Moored Fast; Otherwise Like U. S. Boats

London, Aug. 21.—A real showboat, differing from old-time Mississippi variety only in that it will be steam-heated and have a fixed mooring, will soon lie anchored in the Thames off Chelsea, if the plans of Miss Judith Wogan, well-known in theatrical circles, are carried to fruition.

Application has been made to the municipal authorities to sanction the conversion of a river barge into a floating theater, and plans are all completed for the installation of 300 seats, a stage, steam heating, electricity, and all the other appurtenances of a modern theater.

Floating Theater
"I originally planned," Miss Wogan said, "to have a floating theater exactly like those used in olden times on the Mississippi, and intended to visit villages from one end of the Thames to the other."

"However, I have been informed that this would not be permitted, so instead the barge will be anchored in the river, with a gang-plank stretching to the shore. A Dutch steel barge will probably be used, for it would be most decorative and would mean less danger of fire."

"I am forming a company to give one-act plays, pantomimes, and vaudeville of the sort which seems to have almost entirely disappeared from the music-halls. The show boat will also be used as a visiting theater for permanent travelling companies."

Is Rare Idea
Miss Wogan has long been associated with travelling companies who have given performances in barns and village halls in out-of-the-way places in England and Scotland.

She hit upon the idea of a floating theater after the authorities had given permission to the British Motor Boat club to moor a Spanish galleon in the Thames off Charing Cross, to be used as a club-house. It is said here that only one other show-boat at present exists anywhere in the world, and that one in the Gulf of Mexico.

Where Britons Wrote an Epic Page

Here is the spot where Kitchener's "contemptibles" proved that Britons haven't forgotten how to die. It is the famous Grange Tunnel at Vimy Ridge, where for weeks a bloody and battered army of British and Canadians withstood the flower of the German army. The photo shows a party of veterans visiting the scene of their greatest effort.
